LOCAL WORKFORCE

In a region that pulls together, we've got it all together to put the performance into high gear immediately.

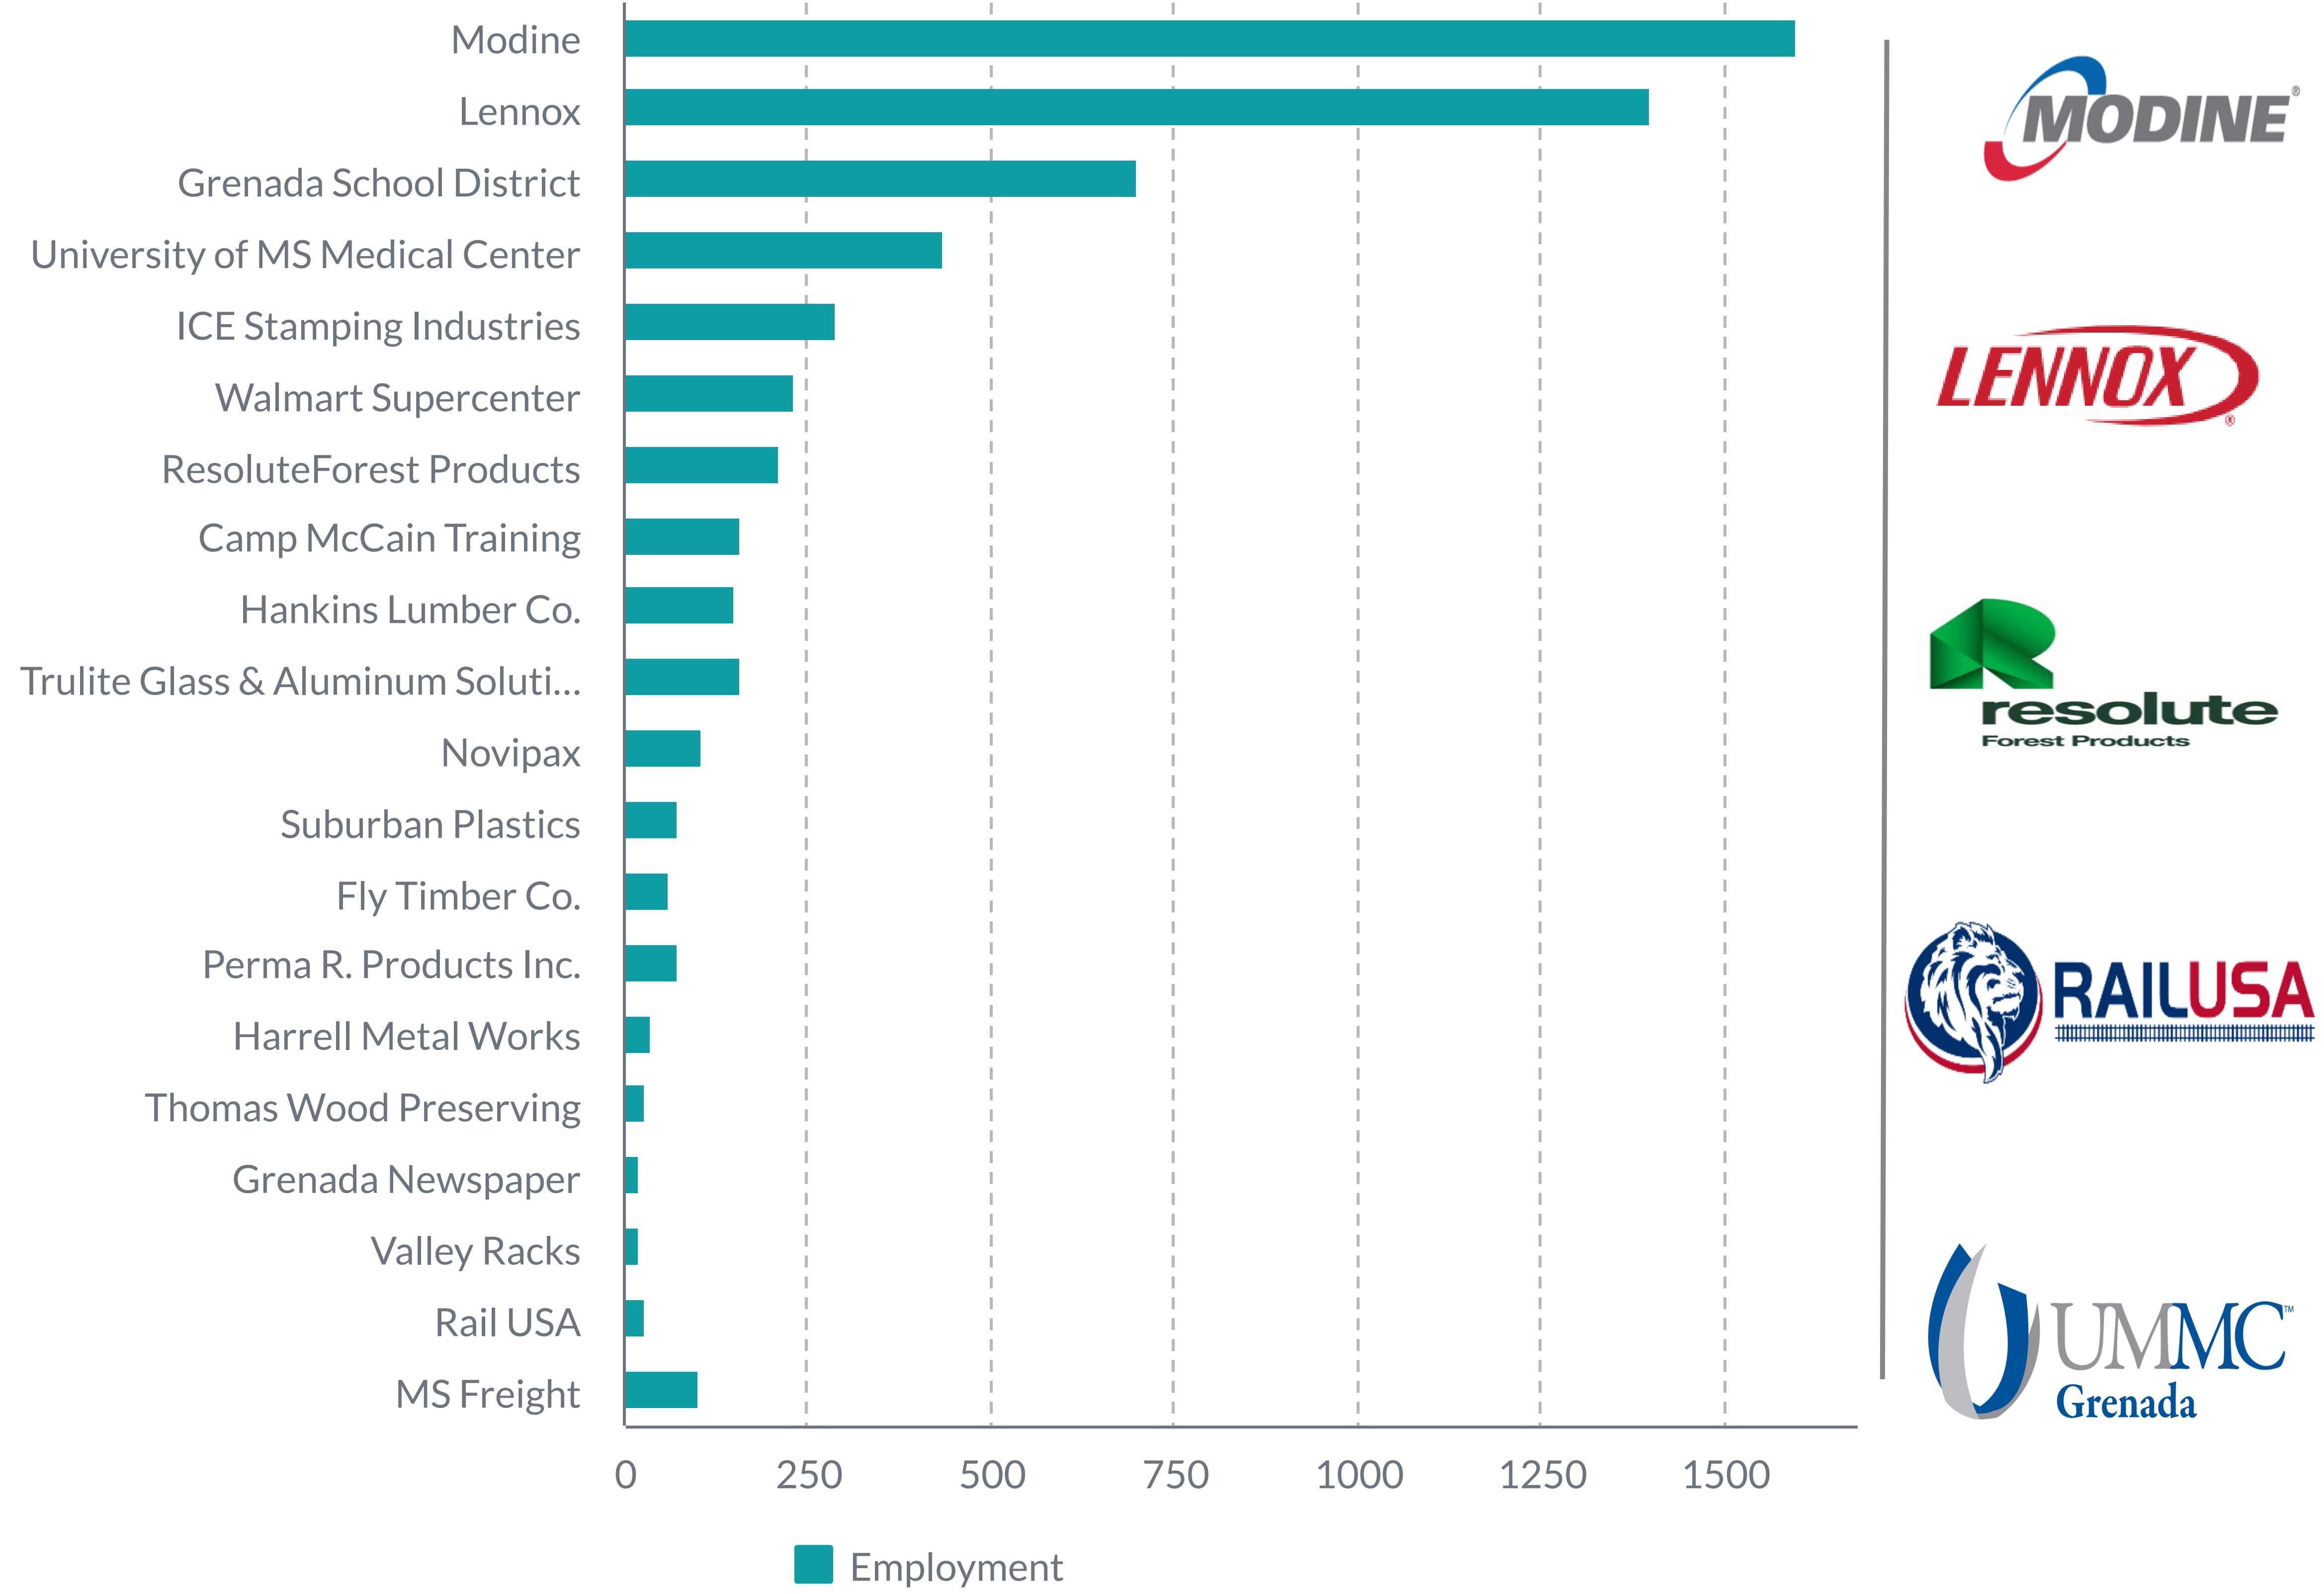

Greater Grenada's workforce offers the size, skills, and seasoned experience you need, all at lower costs. And our local and regional companies understand how important it is to have a not just quantity but quality skilled labor.

The quality of our regional workforce starts at the top with key collaboration between multiple entities including the Mississippi WIN (Workforce Investment Network) Job Center, which is administered by the Three Rivers Development and Planning District, Northwest Community College and Holmes Community College (HCC), a nationally recognized industrial trainer.

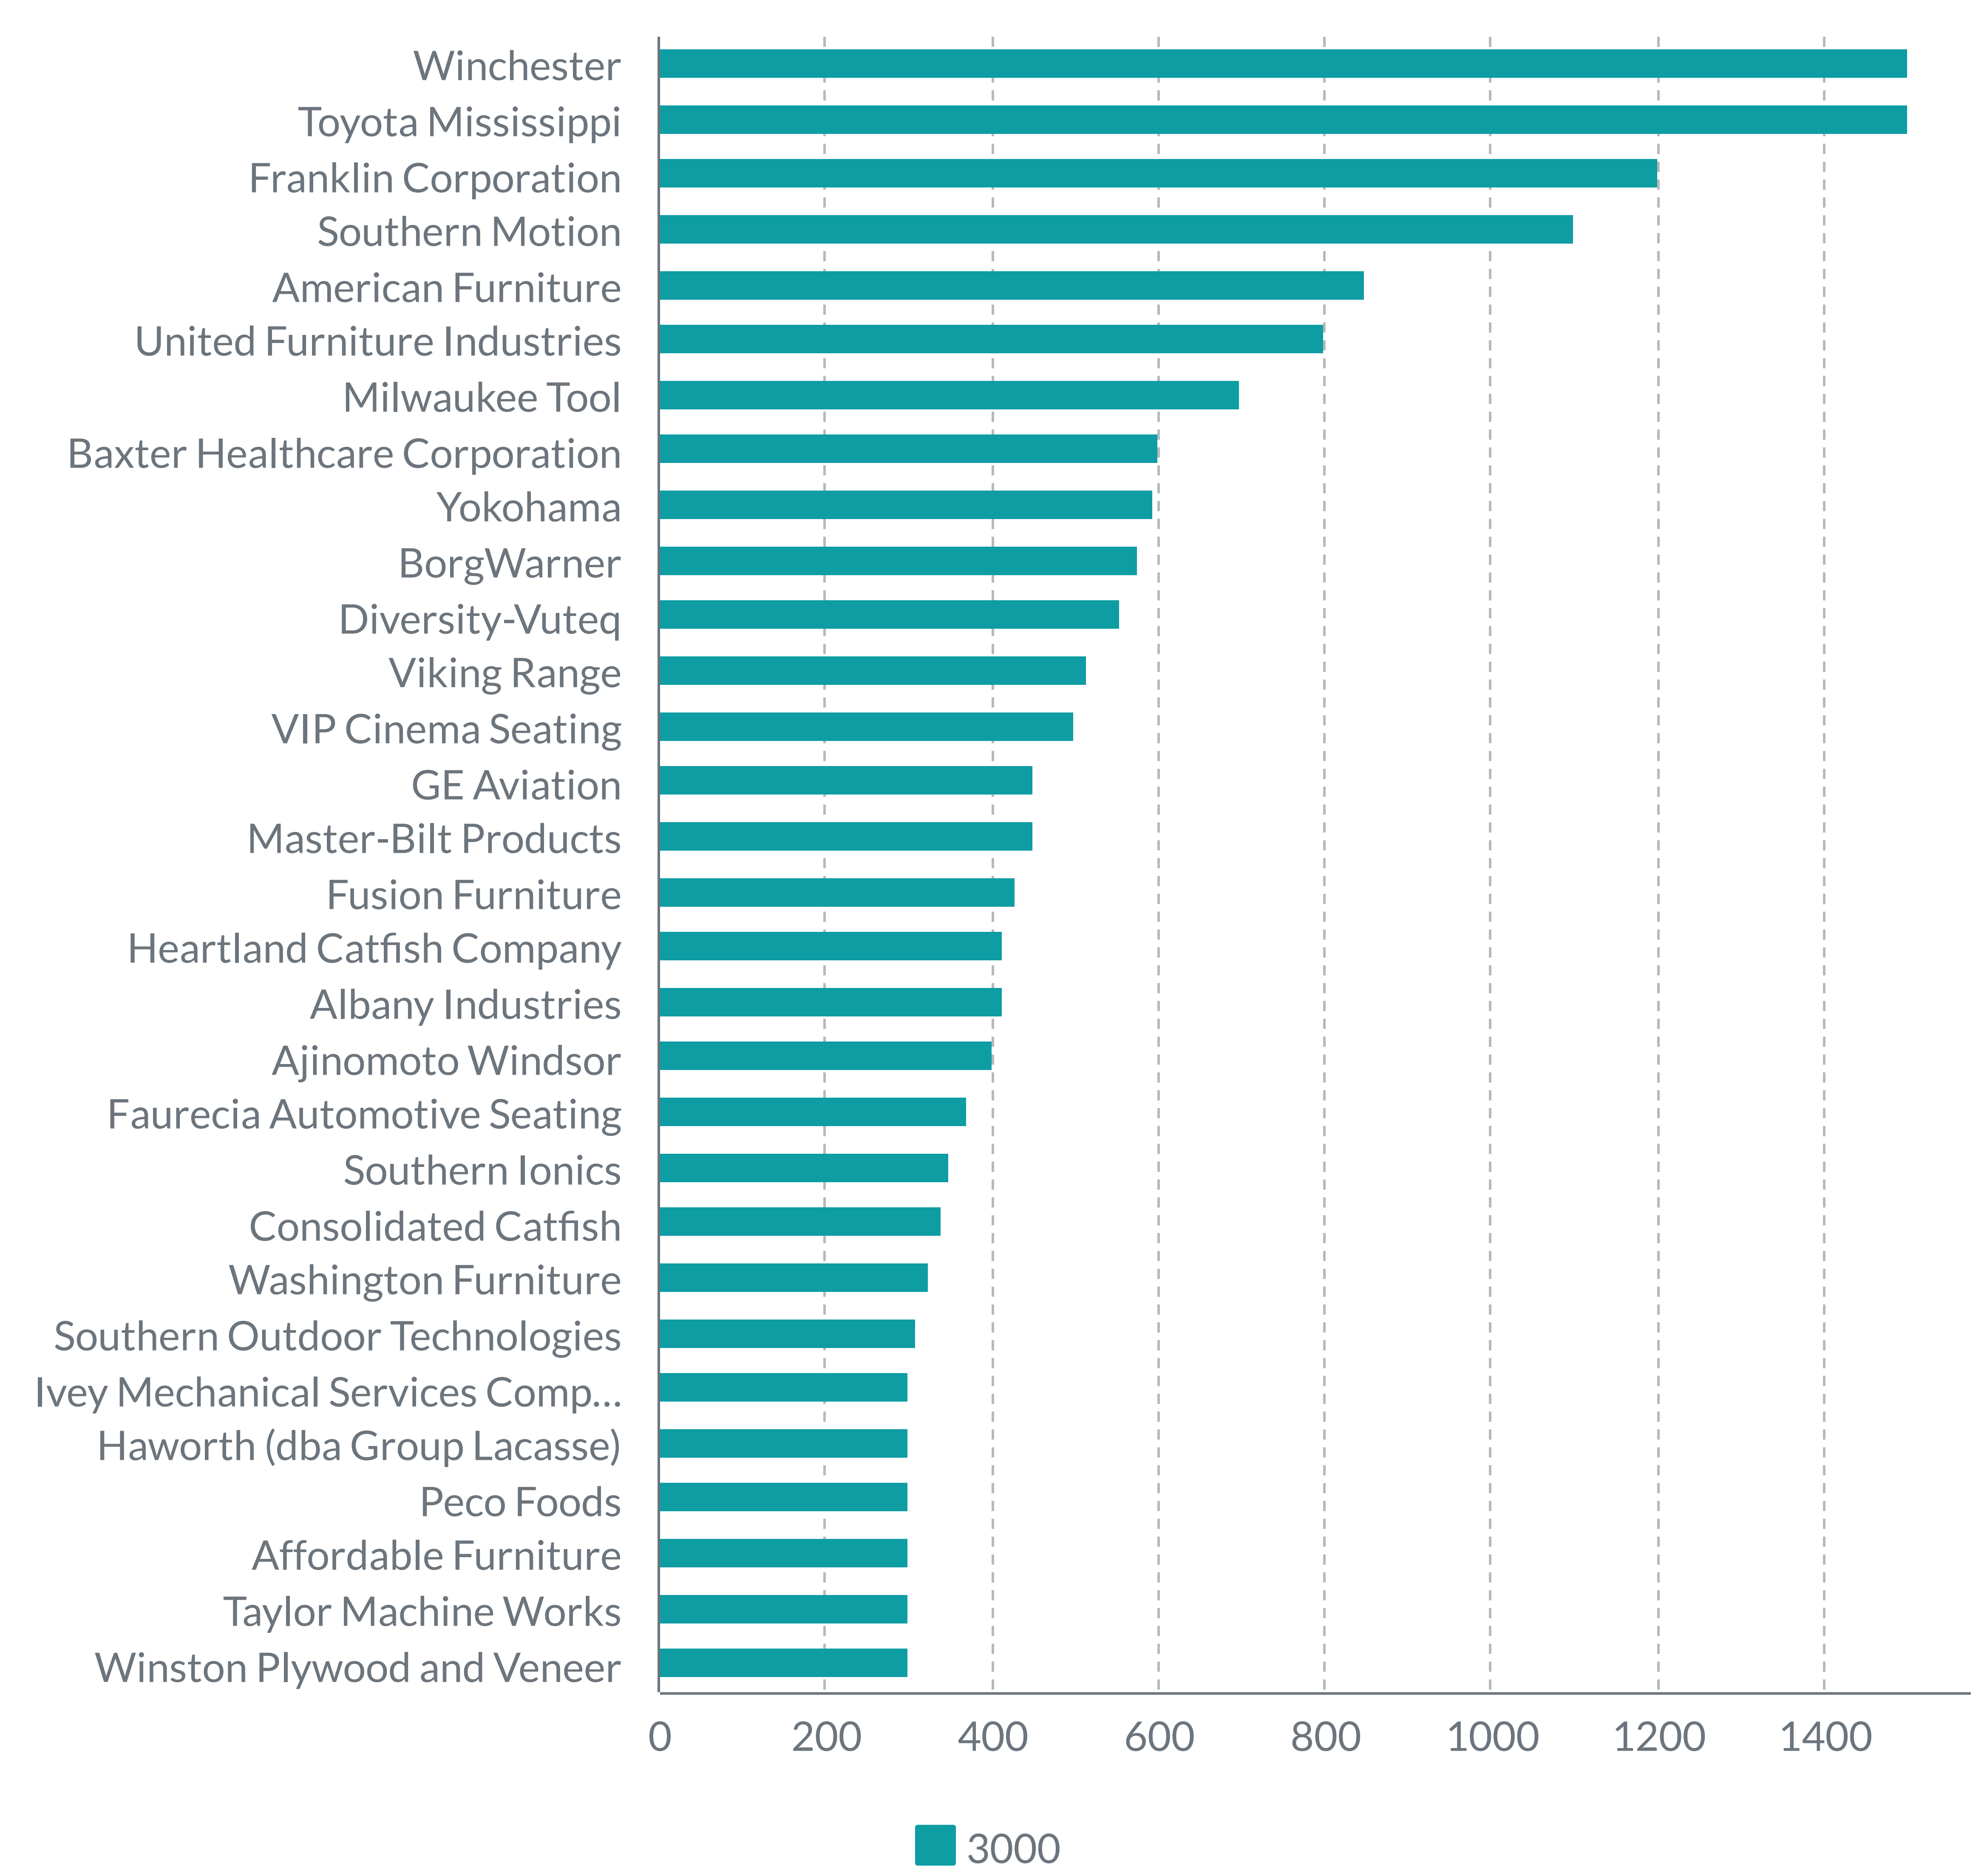

Grenada workforce quality also starts at the very beginning: We are continually hitting new benchmarks with high-achieving Grenada K-12 schools and career paths that lead to immediate employment in our robust manufacturing sector, or to further training and education at 14 community college campuses and 9 major university campuses within a 100-mile radius, putting approximately 85,000 college students in the region.

And our quality is ongoing as an ACT (American College Testing) Work Ready community where National Career Readiness Certificates are being earned in large numbers by high school students as well as college students and adults. Check out with the organizations below have already discovered.
